Article 2

Users of samples in the Assessment Room and borrowers of assessment tools are to uphold professional ethics. Offenders who fail to do so shall be permanently barred from borrowing or using the abovementioned samples and tools once their offenses have been verified.

Article 3

The loan of test/assessment tools and other assistive devices belonging to the department is exclusive to faculty members and students of the Department and the researchers of the Special Education Center. Students taking a minor program and students from other departments taking courses conducted by faculty members of the Department and hence need to use the Department's tools are required to use their student ID card or ID card to apply for access to the equipment. Non-NTNU students are not allowed to loan the equipment.

Article 4

The use of test/assessment tools and other assistive devices belonging to the department shall be limited to the fulfillment of course requirements. Loans not allowed under other circumstances.

Article 5

The loan and booking of test/assessment tools and other assistive devices belonging to the department can be either done in a group or as an individual. Group bookings can only be done by students who require the tools to meet course requirements, and the loan must be made under the name of the faculty member conducting the course. For individual booking, the applicant has to fill up a booking form, which has to be signed and approved by the course instructor or the student's advisor, before access to the equipment is granted.

Article 6

The limit for the number of tests performed by students is six tests; there is no limit for faculty members.

Article 7

The loan period of test/assessment tools and other assistive devices belonging to the Department is two weeks (the loan period of individual test kits will be otherwise specified). Each loan can be renewed once. In the event of a loan renewal, the borrower is to approach the officer-in-charge to file an application. If a user needs to use the equipment again, they are to return it before re-loaning it.

Article 8

Loan period of individual test kits: one week for undergraduate students, two weeks for graduate students, and one semester for faculty members. Students taking a minor program are not eligible to apply.

Article 9

Group bookings for the department's test/assessment tools can be done during office hours through the part-time student helpers on duty. Individual bookings can be done during the hours stated in the announcements through the officers-in-charge of the Assessment Room.

Article 10

The booking of assessment tools and other assistive devices not stored in the Assessment Room can be done through the teacher-in-charge of the facility, or through the part-time student helpers on duty during office hours.

Article 11

Users who lose any test/assessment tools or other assistive devices have to purchase the same equipment themselves and return it to the Department. In the case that the equipment is not available for purchase, the user shall be required to pay a fine of 10 times the value of the equipment.

Article 12

No eating and drinking in the Assessment Room. After using the Assessment Room, please return all tables, chairs, and equipment to their original positions so as to maintain the tidiness of the facility.

Article 13

Users who do not return the loaned test/assessment tools and other assistive devices on time are subject to a fine. If the equipment is not returned within one week (inclusive) after due date, the user will be fined NT10 per item per day; if the equipment is not returned within two weeks after due date, the user will be fined NT20 per item per day. Further increments in the fine will be determined based on this pattern. If the overdue fine is not paid within a week, a public reminder will be issued, and the loan and booking rights of the user shall also be revoked for one month. A copy of the reminder will also be forwarded to the course instructor or student advisor for them to assist in reminding the student and assisting with the collection of the fine.

Article 14

These rules and regulations have been reviewed in departmental meetings prior to being implemented. The same process has been observed when there are amendments made to the content.
